The Council were thanked for once again providing 38 poppy crosses in memory of the fallen of the parish and advised that research is still going on in respect of other casualties of the war and that a lead on another soldier from New Longton who fell at the 3rd Battle of Ypres is being followed up through relatives in Norway.

Concern was however expressed that the police will not support the community by providing cover for the Remembrance Day procession in Longton something that is to be taken up by County Cllr Gooch.
